

COMPLIANCE CONSULTANT

Making Compliance Work

Using Compliance Consultant

A good consultant frames an issue quickly but doesn't suggest solutions too quickly, because he or she realises that they don't know what they don't know until they begin to gather more data.

A good consultant will not promise the moon and the stars, and will never base an approach on tests or instruments that are purchased for a few pounds from other companies; in life, you get what you pay for.

A good consultant is someone you'll hate to see go when the project ends on time, and who you'll want to invite back at the first appropriate new challenge.

How We Can Help You

Our work is collaborative, involving client personnel and resources and the transfer of skills to the client's business.

Although most of our work is conducted under confidentiality or non-disclosure agreements, due to the remedial or sensitive nature, we generally work for existing clients or referrals and often consist of new project work in related areas to previous interventions.

Our engagements are usually completed within one to six months. We work against specific objectives with clearly-established outcomes and timing, contributing to client strategic business goals.

Our experience and results indicate that improved performance requires investment in people, systems and support structures. However, that investment does not require additional resources, but rather the redeployment of talents, resources and energy already present.

Our Philosophy

Our approaches revolve around a simple idea:

“Improving our client's condition”

One of the fundamentals of our success is to utilise the existing talents and resources of the organisation to enhance client satisfaction and their business goals, by directing talents and resources outward, not inward.

Additional Resource

As we work on a "just in time" basis, we have a pool of experienced and qualified professional consultants available to match "your needs" to "their skills".

We have a growing list of consultants from Complaints Handlers to Capital Adequacy Specialists, from Financial Promotions Experts to Conduct Risk Strategy and Risk Management specialists.

We also have influence over niche risk software companies where they can leverage any of your systems and integrate reporting and alerts through their own software to provide you with a comprehensive risk management reporting system.
